

ABSTRACT

To provide an omnidirectional visual camera having a simple configuration and which can pick up omnidirectional
5 images covering an angle of 360° around an axis. This camera comprises a reflecting member and a camera section. The reflecting member is composed of a rotating surface portion, a cylindrical portion and a joining section, which are integrally formed of a transparent material.